

Instructional Methods

Across

8. A great avenue for topics that are hard for individuals to grasp or difficult to teach
9. A step-by-step review of the psychomotor skill
10. Simulations can use a real person as a _____ patient to act the role of the scenario
11. An analysis of an incident or situation to solve or resolve problems
12. Simulation category that uses manikins attached to computers

Down

1. Self-learning _____ are ideal for the motivated adult learner
2. _____ learning: Small groups work together toward achieving shared learning goals
3. _____ learning: small groups analyze a case, identify their own needs for information, and then solve everyday problems

4. Learners spontaneously act out roles in an interaction involving problems or challenges in human relations
5. The story to the simulation or case study
6. What the educator wants the learner to learn
7. Individual or team-based competition through the use of knowledge or skill