

Name: _____

Invertebrates Crossword

Across

1. tell-tale red 'hourglass' marking on this spider, though body can brown.
3. A cockroach that is German
8. Hides between flower petals and waits for its meal to come
10. This ant cuts off leaves with its sharp jaws
11. This cricket can be found in caves
14. Used in fishing
19. If you touch this insect it may hiss at you
22. type of bug that eats the seeds of the milkweed plant
25. Feels like you've been hit by a bullet when stung by one of these
26. Common Spider found in NA
27. insect that may look like a white bump on a leaf/stem
29. This ant can turn into a living "honey-pot"
31. Slug that is bright yellow
32. Over sized Cockroach

Down

2. Scientific name of a Cricket
4. butterflies have orange wings with black veins
5. This bee deals with wood
6. This bee makes our honey
7. These millipedes feed mostly on decaying plant material
9. Not real Katydid
12. this water bug swims on its back.
15. Scientific name of flies
16. This scorpion is known to crawl into boots
17. Snails prey to African land snails
18. beetle that is red with black dots
20. beetles that feed on dried animal carcasses
21. this spider is one of nature's many pest control agents.
23. This beetle can produce 14 different sounds
24. type of snail that bury themselves in mud
28. Insects used in food products for red dye
30. This spider can go months without food and live up to 3yrs
33. beetles commonly found on cattle dung
34. This "ant" is actually a wasp

Across

13. Resembles a thorny branch
15. Scientific name of flies
16. This scorpion is known to crawl into boots
17. Snails prey to African land snails
18. beetle that is red with black dots
20. beetles that feed on dried animal carcasses
21. this spider is one of nature's many pest control agents.
23. This beetle can produce 14 different sounds
24. type of snail that bury themselves in mud
28. Insects used in food products for red dye
30. This spider can go months without food and live up to 3yrs
33. beetles commonly found on cattle dung
34. This "ant" is actually a wasp