

Laboratory Equipment Crossword

Across

4. What pad would you use if heating up glassware overtop of a bunsen burner?

8. What is used to grind large solids into smaller pieces?

9. If you have a lot of test tubes on your desk, what could you hold them in?

13. This is a narrow-mouthed container used to transport, heat or store substances, often used when a stopper is required.

16. This is a long tube for measuring exact volumes.

17. What should you always wear in the lab to protect your eyes?

18. This would be used to observe several small samples of chemicals.

Down

1. What could be used to measure exactly 100 mL of water?

2. What would you use to heat up a solution?

3. What would you use to hold a test tube over a flame?

5. You would have to use this on a retort stand and iron ring when heating smaller items.

6. What would you use to transfer small volumes of liquid?

7. What would you use to measure out a mass of substance?

10. The beaker is too hot! How do you lift it off the heat source?

11. What would you use to clean the inside of a test tube?

12. This piece of glassware would be used to hold liquids.

14. What would you use to pour liquid into containers with small openings?

15. This piece of equipment would be used to remove solids from a container.