

Law Making

- Across
- When a person who is not from the cabinet proposes a bill, it is called a _____. Don Davies has introduced many of these, including establishing free school tuition for students with diverse needs.
 - The goal of the person elected with this role is to make sure that everyone in the party behaves as expected in parliament.
 - A member of parliament who is not a cabinet minister or party leader. Most people in the house of commons start their career in parliament in this position.
 - During _____, opposition parties can question the government's actions.
 - The Party that has the second most seats in the house of commons is referred to as the _____. In the case of the past election, this role would be taken by the Conservative Party Of Canada
 - The _____ is like the agenda for discussions in parliament that day.
 - Don Davies is a member of the _____ as he was elected as a representative from his riding.
 - This symbolic item is something that we have inherited from British parliamentary tradition. It represents the authority of the Speaker of the house. The current _____ is the same one we have had since 1917.
 - Since 2019, Anthony Rota has held this position.
 - In this private party meeting, elected party members can raise concerns and speak out against their own party freely.
 - The liberals won a _____ in the most recent election.
 - For a bill to become law, the Governor General has to give _____.
 - The Progressive Conservative party in 1984 and 1988 had a _____.
 - To _____ means to end a session of parliament. The Governor General is usually the one who does this.
 - The _____ is the leader of the party that has the second-most seats in the house of commons. In the case of the past election, Erin O'Toole would take this position.
 - _____ ministers can propose ideas for bills.
 - _____ meets once a year in whats called a session
 - Before any law becomes a law, it is considered as a _____.
 - A _____ is used to allow members of legislation to vote for what they believe in, not what their party does.
 - Mrs. Kwon is related, through marriage, to someone who is on the _____.
 - The first _____ used in Canada was to delay the Naval Aid Bill from coming to a vote.
- Down
- _____ happens when someone leaves a party and joins another one, usually after they are kicked out for voting against their party.
 - From this past election, the parties that have _____ are the NDP, Bloc Quebecois, Liberals, and Conservatives as they all have at least 4 seats.

Word Bank

- | | | | |
|----------------------|-----------------------|----------------------|--------------------------|
| Private members bill | Bill | Senate | Backbencher |
| Free vote | Party whip | Caucus | Question period |
| Majority government | Official Party Status | Crossing the floor | Cabinet |
| House of commons | Prorogue Parliament | Speaker of the house | Leader of the opposition |
| Official opposition, | Filibuster | Order paper | Parliament |
| Minority government | Mace | Royal assent | |