

Learning About Children

Across

3. An observation for a set period of time.
4. Those who tend to the needs of children.
6. People, places, and things that surround and influence a person.
7. The value people place on themselves
8. Relies on personal opinions and feelings to judge an event.

9. The stages of development from birth to death.

10. The biological transfer of characteristics from earlier generations

Down

1. A record that is factual
2. A list of skills that children should master by a certain age.
5. Activities that arouse a baby's senses and help develop cognition.