

Literary Terms

Across

3. a self-written life story.

7. a form of writing in paragraph form that uses informal language, although it can be written formally

9. when there are two contradicting meanings of the same situation, event, image, sentence, phrase, or story. In many cases, this refers to the difference between expectations and reality.

10. "conversation." In the broadest sense, this includes any case of two or more characters speaking to each other directly.

11. a series of words can have the same basic definitions, but completely different meaning—these are the emotions or meanings implied by a word, phrase, or thing.

12. Opposite of the protagonist, or main character. Typically, this is a villain of some kind, but not always! It's just the opponent of the main character, or someone who gets in their way.

Down

1. when the main problem of the story is faced and solved by the main character or protagonist.

2. kind of metaphor in which you describe an inanimate object, abstract thing, or non-human animal in human terms.

4. "dictionary definition"

5. words that begin with the same sound are placed close together. It often involves repetition of letters, most importantly, it is a repetition of sounds.

6. is the first paragraph or paragraphs in which the characters, setting (time and place), and basic information is introduced.

8. the sequence of events that make up a story, whether it's told, written, filmed, or sung.

Word Bank

Climax

Irony

Connotation

Personification

Antagonist

Dialogue

Alliteration

Autobiography

Denotation

Plot

Essay

Exposition