

Name: _____

Date: _____

Living Things

Across

2. a type of key where each arm of the key contains two choices

6. visual tool used to classify organisms

7. the building block of living things

9. snakes and lizards are in this group

10. this is the first part of the binomial name and is written with a capital letter (the second part is the species)

11. the scientific process of sorting living things into groups

12. may have more of these in your body than human cells

13. the term for an external skeleton

15. Look similar to each other. Can breed in natural conditions and produce fertile young.

Down

1. frogs are part of this group

3. organism with an exoskeleton or no skeleton

4. have an internal skeleton

5. group or organism

8. the organisms in this kingdom include mushrooms, yeasts and moulds

14. multicellular organisms have more than _____ cell