

Loving Language

Across

1. What is the name for a person who only knows one language?
2. What word describes the sides of the brain?
5. Which type of bilingual learns a second language by filtering it through their primary language?
6. Which invasion brought french and spanish derived words to England?
8. Was the old English word 'thou' the formal or informal of 'you'?
14. Which famous boxer was dyslexic?
16. What is the formal word for you in french?

18. In many languages how does the pronoun 'you' reflect who you are talking to?

19. What constructed language is spoken in The Lord of the Rings?

20. Which language spoken in 500 b.c does english, swedish and german descend from?

Down

3. What can 'constructed language' be shortened to?
4. What is the range of differences in individual brain function and behavioural traits, regarded as part of normal variation in the human population?

7. A disease that multilingual people can delay the onset of

9. Aurebesh is not a real language. (true/false)

10. What is the left side of the brain in charge of?

11. What does a real language have to have?

12. 'Main' and 'mano' are the french and spanish word for hand, what is hand in latin?

13. It is easier to learn a language as an adult. (true/false)

15. Which language was french spanish and italian derived from?

17. How many people are affected by dyslexia?