

Name: _____

Date: _____

Marine Biology Midterm

Across

3. Clams are also known as _____.

5. The mouth on seastars is on the _____ side

7. Seagrass and other marine plants belong to this Kingdom

8. have exoskeletons (hard outer covering of the body); they have pincer claws, their antennae are used for sensing the environment around them. Examples: lobsters, crabs, shrimp, barnacles.

10. coral polyps that grow together in a group.

13. shallow body of water that remains within rocks along the intertidal zone during low tide

Down

1. also in mollusk phylum, includes squid, octopus and cuttlefish. Great at camouflaging. Can squirt ink as a defense.

2. Sponges, squid, sea urchins, and so many more sea creatures are part of this Kingdom

4. have special stinging cells called nematocysts, examples: jellyfish, anemones, corals

6. place where a river meets with an ocean

9. covered in small pores, filter feeders, move water through the small pores absorbing nutrients

11. Clams, mussels, whelks are part of this group

12. Bacteria belong to this Kingdom

Word Bank

Coral colony

Estuary

Cephalopods

Plantae

Bivalves

Tide Pool

Cnidarians

Crustaceans

sponge

mollusks

Monera

Animalia

oral