

Math Menu-STATISTICS

Across

- 6. a question that anticipates many different responses
- 8. a type of graph used for large ranges of data
- 12. the distance from 0 on the number line
- 13. middle-most number of a range of numbers ordered from lowest to highest
- 14. a graph used to find IQR, mean and median
- 15. data given in numbers, usually you can count or measure

Down

- 1. taking a small part from a larger group to estimate characteristics of the whole group
- 2. Study of data
- 3. describes the middle 50% of values when ordered from lowest to highest
- 4. a graph used to represent a distribution consisting of group of data points plotted on a simple scale
- 5. collection of facts

7. describes how spread out or closely clustered data is

9. The most common number in the dataset

10. average of a range of numbers

11. data given that describes something-observe, smell, taste