

Medical Terminology

Across

2. clear, fluid-filled blister
 4. rapidly growing type of kidney cancer that most commonly affects children; also known nephroblastoma.
 11. sugar in the urine.
 12. A small puss-filled blister
 13. enlarged thyroid gland.

14. injection of a small amount of botulinum toxin into selected muscles of the face; interferes with muscle contractions, thereby reducing the appearance of wrinkles.
 15. chronic condition marked by pain in the muscles, tendons, ligaments, and soft tissues of the body.

Down

1. a feeling of spinning or moving in space.
 3. inability to urinate.

5. increased level of urea or other wastes in the blood.
 6. twisting of the bowel upon itself, causing an obstruction.
 7. enema containing a substance that shows up clearly under an x-ray and fluoroscopic examination
 8. surgical cut in the flesh.
 9. inflammation of the stomach's mucosal lining.
 10. excessive thirst