

Migrant Health Issues

Across

2. primarily transmitted through sharing of injection drug needles and equipment; the most common chronic bloodborne infection in the US
6. the most common chronic condition affecting migrant populations, _____ disease
10. housing is in short supply, so large extended families live together resulting in _____
11. the second most prevalent chronic condition in migrant populations, vascular disease
13. an infectious oral health problem
14. sensation that occurs when the skin and underlying tissues freeze due to exposure to cold air, wind and humidity
16. there is high teen pregnancy due to poor access of _____

17. liver diseases transmitted via a fecal-oral route, symptoms include jaundice, fatigue, abdominal pain, loss of appetite, nausea, diarrhea, fever
18. a condition caused by emotional turmoil, isolation, loss of family, removed from roots

Down

1. a condition that pregnant women have just started to be vaccinated for
3. an infectious disease spread via vapour, often contracted when migrants live in poor damp conditions
4. different countries may have different childhood _____ programmes to prevent disease
5. half of enteric fever cases are caused by
7. a respiratory infection seasonally vaccinated for in this country

8. a waterborne disease that is contracted through drinking dirty water
9. there is a _____ infant mortality
12. a viral infection spread by the use of IV, transmitted through intercourse or spread via mother to baby; particularly endemic in southern Africa
15. liver disease spread through blood or infected body fluids, via unprotected sex, sharing injection equipment, job-related needlesticks, and vertical transmission from an infected mother