

Module 6: Caring for Families

Across

2. When immigrant families try to adjust to the new culture and challenges arise that affect each member of the family.
5. Often shapes the rules, roles and resources that exist within the family.
6. A type of family where the grandparent takes on the role of the parent.
7. Encourages people to consider families as interdependent subsystems.
9. Characteristics associated with the composition of a family that influence how family members respond to health and illness.
10. Family _____ describes the purpose, goals and philosophy of the family system and depicts family roles.
13. A process of culture learning and adaptation of behaviour by being exposed to a non-native culture.

16. A family consisting of two people living together as spouses without the formality of marriage.

17. Acculturation _____ refers to the difficulties and challenges involved in the process of acculturation.

18. Issue that may arise between patient and healthcare provider based on differences in beliefs and values.

19. A type of family consisting of a wife, a husband and children. Also known as a traditional family.

20. A type of family that contains a parent who was previously married with children from that marriage.

Down

1. A concept of viewing each person as a separate entity from the group or family.

3. Family _____ should be done upon meeting your patient.

4. A type of family where the parents live with their adult children under the same roof.

8. Language and cultural _____ are factors that may influence access to health care.

11. A type of role that identifies a woman as the nurturer or comforter within the family unit.

12. Responsibilities within a family unit, that may be assigned or acquired depending on family system or culture.

14. Consists of three major categories of family assessments, introduced in 1984.

15. A type of family that has been on the decline in Canada, making up of only 44 percent of families in 2001.