

Name: _____

Date: _____

Motor and Perceptual Development

Across

- 5. Eyes open and bright; attention focused on stimuli; activity level low
- 8. Type of attention used when focusing on one thing, but not another
- 9. Grasping between forefinger and thumb
- 11. A diagnosis characterized by difficulty sustaining attention and hyperactivity
- 14. Head-to-foot
- 17. Interpretation of sensory stimulation

- 19. Stimulation of a sense organ
- 20. Reaction to a sudden noise

Down

- 1. A congenitally organized behavior
- 2. One thing that influences whether babies sleep independently or in the same room as an adult
- 3. Sensitivity to gravity and motions of our bodies
- 4. A way to test an infant's depth perception

- 6. Characterized by regular breathing; occasional jerky movements
- 7. A research method used for the study of infant visual ability
- 10. Developer of the dynamic systems approach
- 12. Active, exploratory use of touch
- 13. Whole hand grasping
- 15. Near-to-far
- 16. Another word for "acuity"
- 18. One important aspect of attention that develops with age (according to Flavell)