

Name: _____

Date: _____

NGFS

- | | |
|--|-------------------|
| 1. A term used by the spotter in adjusting fire to indicate that an increase in range along the spotting line | A. Lost |
| 2. An order used by the spotter to interrupt firing temporarily | B. Counterbattery |
| 3. Gunfire delivered at a target when the sights are brought directly to bear | C. Straddle |
| 4. Type of fuze action designed to produce an airburst using a radio transceiver | D. Grid |
| 5. Indicates that last salvo fired was not seen by the observer | E. Retard |
| 6. To bring the fire of two or more ships on the same target. | F. Mixed |
| 7. Indicates that a multigun salvo contains both air and graze bursts | G. Check Firing |
| 8. An order to make the HE burst later in relation to preceding start shell. Will be followed by time in seconds | H. Direct Fire |
| 9. A multigun salvo, some rounds of which fall short and some of which fall beyond the target | I. Wrong |
| 10. A proword used in radiotelephone procedure. its use is modified in call for fire in that error noted during a readback is corrected. | J. Mass |
| 11. A shortened form of grid coordinates | K. Fuze VT |
| 12. Fire specifically directed against enemy guns | L. Dispersion |
| 13. The distribution of projectiles fired from one gun or battery of guns under conditions as nearly identical as possible | M. Add |