

Nature vs. Nurture

Across

3. The physical process of development from young to old
 8. The fundamental unit of life
 10. The biological explanation for human behavior is that the brain is ____ - wired
 11. Psychology is the scientific study of the _____ and behavior.
 13. Charles _____ is considered to be the father of the theory of evolution.
 14. The _____ Genome Project traces types of behavior to particular strands on DNA
 16. According to epigenetic theory, a mother's parenting style can affect the activity of her _____ genes.
 17. A scientist that studies the brain and its functions

18. The nurture hypothesis for human behavior suggests the brain is _____ slate at birth and filled as a result of experiences.

Down

1. Nature vs. _____ is the debate of whether our genes or environment determine human behavior
 2. A mental illness that is shown to be hereditary through the study of identical twins
 4. The name of the theory which integrates the influences nature and nurture when explaining human behavior
 5. The genetic material that makes each human being unique
 6. The region of the brain that involves learning and memory

7. A field of study which looks at how our genes and our environment interact to determine human behavior

9. One of the critical features that distinguishes humans from _____ is language.

12. _____ is the time period when hormones begin to influence human behavior

15. While the biological explanation for human behavior is explained by internal factors, nurture or the environment are considered to be _____ factors.