

New Hire Crossword Puzzle

Across

2. An acronym used for a software service that manages customer information. Indeed's version of this software is AdCentral
5. The internal tool you will use to enter your time and schedule paid time off
7. The name of our unofficial penguin mascot
8. Acronym used for businesses that used a pyramid sales structure. We do not allow these types of sales positions on Indeed
11. Our workstation for the creation and assignment of tickets
12. Internal search interface that allows you to search for any jobs in Indeed index
14. The process of gathering jobs from across the web and adding them to Indeed search results

15. Our single sign-on service that provides access to several services through a handy browser extension
17. The term used when an employer adds a budget to promote their job posting in search results
19. An acronym used for a software product that allows employers to track applicants to their jobs
21. Job _____ emails are notifications that a job seeker can receive daily with new job listings

Down

1. Internal name for a Hosted Jobs web application that allows employers to post jobs through Indeed
3. A web site that enables employers or recruiters to post jobs and job seekers to view them. This is one category of source of jobs on Indeed.

4. The video conference service we use
6. A Waldo _____ sets the level of visibility for job postings
9. The second highest level of visibility. These jobs will not show in Job Alert emails
10. The messaging service we use to communicate and send gifs
13. a system used to relay messages between jobseekers and employers. It is used primarily by Employer teams and Resume. Name is derived from "Dradis email relay."
16. Indeed's mission statement: We help people get _____
18. Shorthand name for Search Quality team
20. Acronym for the list of results that will appear as a response to a user's keyword query