

Nonfiction

Across

2. a statement that has been proven entirely that its true.

7. a piece of paper or representation of an area of land from above

8. when the text is set in; shows the beginning of a paragraph or something new; external text structure

9. a form of news/media literacy

12. internal text structure; explaining the similarities and differences between two subjects

14. opposite of fiction; writing based on facts, people, places, and events

15. the writer of a book

16. someone who reports or gathers news for an newspaper, news show

17. a functional text that deals with food preparation

Down

1. internal text structure; show the order of events over time

3. opposite of fiction; writing that uses facts, real people, places, and events

4. a story of someone else life

5. overall idea of a whole work or single paragraph

6. when a word is darker than the surrounding words; external text structure

10. a story about one owns life

11. used to cite sources or give extra information; at the bottom of the page

13. a writing utensil