

Oral Path Chapter 2

Across

2. A focal agroyosis is also called _____ tattoo.
5. The grinding of teeth together for non functional purposes
9. Frictional keratosis is caused by this type _____ rubbing.
12. An abnormal increase in the size of cells
14. Loss of tooth structure resulting from chemical action
16. Excessive scarring in skin that appears raised
17. A raised white line seen on the buccal mucosa. Also known as _____ alba.

18. causes burn to the buccal mucosa. a pharmaceutical agent

Down

1. A _____ is a salivary gland stone
3. Chronic hyperplastic pulpitis is also known as one of these:
4. Inflammation of salivary gland tissue is called:
6. An abnormal decrease in the size of cells
7. wedge shaped defect at cervical area of teeth
8. lesion that forms from the accumulation of blood within the tissue is called a:

10. Long term sun in exposure, particularly in fair skinned individuals, can result in this degeneration of the vermilion border of the lips called actinic _____

11. This type of granuloma is commonly seen in pregnant women
13. Papillary hyperplasia is often caused by an ill fitting one of these:
15. _____ is an eating disorder characterized by food binges followed by self induced vomiting.