

Parenting Styles & Characteristics

Across

2. Rules and reasons for punishment are explained to children of _____ families.

4. _____ behaviour is often the result of jellyfish parenting.

10. Children of backbone families learn that their love is _____.

11. _____ discipline is a characteristic of brick wall parenting.

12. _____ rules are a characteristic of brick wall parenting.

13. In _____ families, children often must learn the wrongdoing from the results of their actions.

15. Brick wall parents often give little _____ or reasons for punishment or actions.

Down

1. Backbone families _____ the child no matter what behaviour is displayed.

3. Children of backbone families are more achievement _____.

5. _____ is directly related to misbehaviour.

6. Children of jellyfish families are less likely to _____ the effect of their actions on others.

7. Children of backbone families are often better _____ socially and emotionally.

8. Children of jellyfish families are less oriented toward _____.

9. Jellyfish families often have _____ parental control or guidance.

14. Children of brick wall families tend to have _____ self-esteem.

Word Bank

Strict

Achievement

Punishment

Impulsive

Explanation

Unconditional

Consider

Rigid

Oriented

Little

Backbone

Adjusted

Jellyfish

Accept

Lower