

Particle Theory (pt1)

Across

5. how a state of matter behaves can be described in its _____

7. the start of a solid changing to a liquid

9. different forms of matter are called _____

11. tiny building blocks that make up matter

Down

1. water has a _____ of 100 degrees C

2. the amount of matter an object has; can be weighed in grams

3. a measure of warmth or coolness

4. a state of matter that takes the shape of it's container

6. anything that has weight and takes up space

8. has no definite shape or size

10. relatively high degree of warmth