

Patient Care Management-ED

Across

2. This is a framework for sorting patients according to acuity
 3. This type of chest movement is characteristic of flail chest
 8. What is a drooping eyelid called
 9. This occurs with hypervolemia, right ventricular failure, cardiac tamponade & tension pneumothorax (abbreviation)
 10. This system of triage is used during a mass-casualty incident

11. There are _____

_____ main elements that are assessed when doing triage of the pediatric patient

13. This type of planning includes an assessment of the patient's physiologic, psychologic, social & cultural needs; it starts at admission.
 14. Suture removal would be at this level in the three-level acuity system

Down

1. This is why the patient is seeking help in his or own words (2 words)

4. This sign is characterized by bruising around the eyes

5. An initial assessment that consists of ABCD

6. This mnemonic is used for mechanism of injury

7. _____ is the acronym used when performing a pediatric focused assessment

12. A patient with a myocardial infarction would be at this level in the three-level acuity system