

Play Structure Crossword

Across

- 1. an exaggerated, fast-moving play in which action is more important than characterization
- 4. the basic idea or purpose of a play; it ties together all the characters and events
- 5. the arrangement of the incidents that take place in a play
- 9. the underlying meaning or interpretation of a line; it is not indicated in the script but is supplied by the actor
- 11. major division of a play

12. a play that presents its theme and characters in a humorous way; all characters come together at the end of the play

13. detailed information revealing the facts of the plot (often explains events before play begins/the past)

Down

- 2. the character opposing the protagonist
- 3. all visual elements of production, such as scenery, properties, lighting, costumes, makeup, stage movement, and dance

6. a play that deals with a serious situation in a serious way; the protagonist dies or is defeated at the end of the play

7. the dialogue, sounds, movement, or business signaling an actor or technician to respond as rehearsed

8. small movements and actions that do not require the actor to move from place to place

10. turning point in the action of a play - highest point of tension