

Name: _____

Date: _____

Postpartum Blues/ Depression/ Psychosis

Across

- 5. Having a history of this disorder places the mother more at risk for developing PPD
- 8. An underlying psychotic disorder that causes Postpartum Psychosis
- 9. What many mothers believe PPD is
- 10. Most mothers believe their baby blues are due to this
- 12. Symptoms are transient and mild, and generally peak after 4-5 days

14. A class of drugs given as a treatment option for Postpartum Depression

15. PPD mothers can feel this about their baby

Down

- 1. If baby blues last more than 2 weeks, the mother is suspected to have this
- 2. Something that the Healthcare Provider should provide to the patient in regards to treatment
- 3. Postpartum Psychosis is considered this

- 4. Changes in this cause emotions to fluctuate after giving birth
- 6. This activity promotes bonding and can help alleviate the symptoms of PPD
- 7. What a woman should do about negative feelings
- 11. Family members and spouses can provide this to a PPD patient
- 13. Who Postpartum Depression can affect