

Probability Crossword Puzzle

Across

1. What type of number is a probability?
(Whole number, decimal, or fraction)
7. When we calculate the probability that is expected, we are finding the _____ probability.
8. An event that has a probability greater than $1/2$ is _____.
9. The result or ending of an event is called the _____.
10. An event that has a probability smaller than $1/2$ is _____.

Down

2. When we complete a simulation of an event, we are finding the _____ probability.
3. The numerator of a probability fraction is the number of _____ outcomes.
4. An event that has a probability equivalent to 0 is _____.
5. The denominator of a probability fraction is total number of _____ outcomes.
6. An event that has a probability equivalent to 1 is _____.