

Protist Crossword Puzzle

Across

- 5. This plant-like algae is the ancestor to modern plants.
- 6. A whip-like structure that allows organisms like zooflagellates and euglena to move around
- 8. A protist that is heterotrophic and autotrophic
- 12. Plant-like protists are classified based on their _____.
- 13. A thick folded membrane around both the euglena and paramecium is called a _____.
- 15. Oomycota share this energy acquiring term in common with fungus
- 16. Common name for multicellular plant-like protists

- 17. An organism made of only one cell
- 18. Unicellular photosynthetic algae is known by the common name _____.

Down

- 1. A massive amount of algae can cause a red tide in the ocean waters, Red tide is an example of an _____.
- 2. This organism is responsible for causing malaria
- 3. Organisms such as the euglena and paramecium use this to pump water out of their bodies in order to maintain homeostasis

- 4. Both plants and most plant-like protists have a cell wall made of _____.
- 7. "False Foot Found on the Amoeba"
- 9. Animal-like protists are classified based on how they _____.
- 10. The paramecium uses these tiny hair-like projections to move around
- 11. This organism feeds using phagocytosis
- 14. The Anopheles mosquito carries a disease causing agent from organism to organism, this make it a _____.