

Name: _____

Date: _____

Psychology

1. aggressive type of crime
 2. crimes where capital or belongings are acquired
 3. based on personal opinion rather than fact
 4. rehabilitation by giving the offender a choice to be aware of the consequences of their crime
 5. reintegrating a convicted person back into society
 6. person aligns themselves with others
 7. when people pay attention to behaviours and retain them in the memory
 8. trait measuring how outgoing an individual is
 9. negative consequences following a certain behaviour
 10. behaviour strengthened and repeated due to positive outcomes for the individual
 11. trait measuring how impulsive and aggressive a person is
 12. outer layer of the brain, important for conscious awareness
 13. outer layer of the brain, important for conscious awareness
- A. extraversion
 - B. violent
 - C. rehabilitation
 - D. psychoticism
 - E. Direct reinforcement
 - F. observation
 - G. subjectivity
 - H. limbic system
 - I. identification
 - J. acquisitive
 - K. restorative justice
 - L. cerebral cortex
 - M. punishment