

Psychology

Across

7. All children pass through four universal stages in a fixed order:
11. of language related to communicating effectively and appropriately with others
12. Essentially all of Piaget falls under this stage
13. Intelligence is applied to specific situations involving the attainment of long-term goals regarding careers, family, and societal contribution is what stage
14. Ways that words and phrases are combined to form sentences
15. Basics sounds of a language that are combined to form words

Down

1. major concerns of middle-aged adults relate to their personal situations, including protecting and nourishing their spouses, families, and careers
2. ability to use learned knowledge and experience
3. Systematic, meaningful arrangement of symbols, and provides the basis for communication
4. ability to solve new problems, use logic in new situations, and identify patterns

5. people no longer focus on acquiring knowledge to solve potential problems, but rather focus on acquiring information directed toward issues of personal interest.
6. Who is the person that says During adulthood, thinking extends beyond "logic to include practical experience, moral judgments and values."
8. Smallest language unit that has meaning
9. Rules that govern the meaning of words and sentences
10. people take a broader perspective than earlier, including focusing more on concerns about the world