

Psychology AS Level

Across

6. Study of split-brain patients
 8. Small-scale trial run of a study
 9. Measure of dispersion based on the biggest and smallest values in the data set
 11. Area of psychology that considers the mental processing of information
 12. Perspective on psychology
 13. Study of distortion of witness memory
 17. Consistency of a measure
 18. The group of people selected from population to represent that population in a study

19. Informing the appropriate authorities about unethical practice
 20. Investigator's predictions about the results their study
 21. Study of destructive obedience
 22. Measure of reliability that compares two halves of a test

Down

1. The extent to which a test or tool measures what it claims to measure
 2. Has to be cut to reduce the spread of epileptic seizures
 3. Self-report method that uses written questions

4. Experimental design in which different participants are used for each IV
 5. Observation in which the role of the observer is known to participants
 7. Study of children's imitation of adult aggression
 10. Funhalar study
 14. Another perspective on psychology
 15. Measure of central tendency worked out by adding up all the scores and dividing by the number of scores
 16. Sampling technique that uses a checklist of possible activities, which are tallied as they occur