

RM

Across

5. taking into consideration the impacts an experiment might hold.

7. information that is written, visual or in auditory form

8. where an interviewer interviews two or more people at a time.

9. the process of selection a section of the population to take part in social research

10. An approach to social research that uses quantitative data

Down

1. information in numeral form

2. a study of a sample of people in which information is collected from the same people at intervals over a long period of time.

3. Knowledge that is free of the biases, opinions and values of the researcher .

4. Data collected first hand

6. a type of group interview in which respondents are asked to discuss certain topics.