

Radiology Terms

Across

2. The screw, when dealing with implants is made of ____? (Hint: material)

6. What kind of pin is used to support a restoration?

10. Recorded superior to root of the first and second molars (Hint: broad, U-shaped brand).

14. Surrounding radiolucent lingual foramen (Hint: radiopaque bilateral doughnut).

16. Mirror or second images of structures that are penetrated by the x-ray beam twice, these are called _____. (Hint: what it creates).

20. What outlines sinus cavities?

22. Bilateral radiopaque ridge along cervical portion of molar and premolar roots.

Down

1. What is used to fill in emptied pulp canals?

3. Is a porcelain crown more or less radiopaque than a metal crown?

4. What is an example of a Nonmetallic Dental Material?

5. ROUND or PEAR-SHAPED radiolucent. What allows the passage of nerves and blood vessels is the ____? (Hint: place where topical for an injection goes).

7. A large air space divided into 2 paired radiolucency by the radiopaque of nasal septum is called what? (Hint: shallow area).

8. What is the tooth-colored material called?

9. V-shaped at base of nasal septum is known as what? (Hint: found in Pas).

11. In the term "PFM", what is fused to metal?

12. Radiolucent bony cavity of the eye sockets are called ____?

13. Radiopaque, hook-like structure that serve as a muscle attachment and usually only observed on the most posterior intraoral image. (Hint: it's a process of bone).

15. What is an example of a Metallic Dental Material?

17. Radiopaque, often recorded on the left and/or right bottom edge of image. (Hint: horseshoe-shaped bone).

18. What is the most common and most easily recognized material?

19. A full metal crown would appear to be ____? (Hint: how it looks on the x-ray image).

21. What appears slightly more radiopaque than enamel and surround the pulp is the ____?

Word Bank

External Oblique Ridge

Hamulus

Amalgam

Zygomatic Process

Titanium

Incisive Foramen

Genial Tubercles

Orbit

Retention

Dentin

Radiopaque

Porcelain

Ghost Image

Hyoid Bone

Composite Resin

Glass Ionomer

Gutta Percha

Anterior Nasal Spine

Less

Nasal Fossa

Orthodontics

Sinus Wall