

Relationships

Across

- 5. Someone you see occasionally or know casually
- 10. A situation in which your words say one thing but your body language says another
- 13. Type of family that consists of two parents living apart and sharing custody of children
- 15. Communication style that is overly forceful, pushy, hostile, or otherwise attacking in approach
- 16. Who are people close to you in age that act like you called
- 18. Type of family that consists of two parents and one or more children
- 19. Type of family that consists of a couple plus adopted children

- 20. Type of communication using words.

Down

- 1. The exchange of information through the use of words or actions
- 2. A relationship with someone you know, trust, and regard with affection
- 3. Type of family that consists of two adults and one or more children from previous marriages
- 4. Type of family that consists of adults caring for one or more children born to different parents
- 6. Type of communication that doesn't use words
- 7. The basic unit of society and includes two or more people joined by blood, marriage, adoption, or a desire to support each other

- 8. Communication style where the person gives up, gives in , or backs down without standing up for his or her rights or needs
- 9. to fulfill physical needs, mental/emotional needs, and social needs
- 11. Type of family that consists of parents living apart and children living with one parent
- 12. Type of family that consists of a nuclear family plus other relatives
- 14. Communication style that is firm and expressed in a positive way
- 17. Type of family that consists of two people who do not have children

Word Bank

- | | | | | |
|------------|---------------|----------------|---------------|---------|
| Aggressive | Nurture | Single custody | Acquaintance | Foster |
| Assertive | Family | Adoptive | Extended | Peers |
| Blended | joint custody | Nonverbal | Mixed message | Nuclear |
| Passive | Couple | Communication | Friendship | Verbal |