

Robotics Cross Word Puzzle

Across

4. This is a dial that controls the voltage coming out of the device.

8. The code we use to control what a light is doing used the command:

10. The screen that shows the output from a sensor is called:

12. The sensor that detects light is called

13. The name of a bunch a code is called a _____.

14. When a program is put into the microcontroller it is called _____.

15. The part of the robot where all the lights and wiring are placed is called:

Down

1. The "&&" stand for _____ in a Boolean Statement

2. LED stand for

3. The following ($x < 10$) is an example of a:

5. The device that is the brain of the robot is called the....

6. The letters and numbers to create a program is called this.

7. The name of the microcontroller is"

9. Objects that detect light or motion are known as:

11. When a light is blinking it means that a _____ was created.