

Scenes

Across

6. Receptors become insensitive to that specific stimulus.

7. The receptors for taste.

8. clear, permanent, jellylike substance

10. Transparent, watery fluid in the eye.

12. contains crystals of calcium carbonate

14. snail-shaped division of the inner-ear labyrinths

Down

1. Consists of numerous cells in the mucous membrane.

2. Fragile and thin with many blood vessels.

3. ability of the body to respond automatically to positional changes when it is moving.

4. Specialized dendrites of sensory neurons.

5. Ear drum

9. responsible for night vision

11. thousands of specialized neurons. Inner-most layer of eyeball.

13. small depression in the central region of the retina.

Word Bank

dynamic equilibrium

retina

choroid

cochlea

olfactory receptors

rods

otoliths

fovea

vitreous humor

tympanic membrane

receptors

accommodation

taste buds

aqueous humor