Across

4. To be or not to be: that is the question.
 9. Love is blind.
 12. Cowards die many times before their deaths, the valiant never taste of death but once.
 13. What's in a name? A rose, by any name, would smell as sweet.
 15. To thine own self be true.
 16. Action is eloquence.
 17. We are such stuff as dreams are made on, and our little life is rounded with a sleep.

18. Some are born great, some achieve greatness, and some have greatness thrust upon them.
 19. Lord, what fools these mortals be!
 20. My salad days, when I was green in judgement...

Down

1. All the world is a stage, and all the men and women merely players. They have their exits and their entrances. And one man in his time plays more parts.
 2. How sharper than a serpent's tooth it is to have a thankless child.

3. Who makes the fairest show means the most deceit.
 5. All that glisters is not gold.
 6. Everyone can master a grief but he that has it.
 7. I will wear my heart upon my sleeve, for daws to peck at.
 8. Some rise by sin, and some by virtue fall.
 10. Who ever loved that loved not at first sight?
 11. But, for my own part, it was Greek to me.
 14. Is this a dagger which I see before me, the handle toward my hand?
