

Sociology - Year One - ADB

Across

8. This type of status is given to a child at home in the family.

9. schools compete against each other for parents to select them.

10. A fair system where all have equal chance of success based on ability and effort.

12. This type of sampling would use an order eg. every 5th person.

13. which behaviour trait do schools reward according to Bowles and Gintis?

14. This person compares the education system to a bridge.

15. a combination of qualitative and quantitative methods

16. If a method can be easily repeated due to its standardised procedure it is?

17. What must be gathered from participants before a study begins to ensure it is ethically sound?

Down

1. When working class children would rather leave school for rewards now than wait for qualifications.

2. The ruling class.

3. The language code spoken by the middle class.

4. The knowledge and skills that middle class families have putting them at an advantage in education.

5. school and work are similar according to Bowles and Gintis

6. If a research method uses a large sample it is likely to be?

7. This type of sociologist prefers quantitative methods.

11. Which key term implies that a study gathers the truth?