

Spoken Language Terminology

Across

4. when a speaker starts a sentence but changes what they were going to say

7. another word for body language, can include pointing, shrugging shoulders etc.

9. a complete unit of talk (as opposed to 'sentence')

11. a short phrase at the end of a declarative to turn it into a question

12. words shortened through the use of an apostrophe

13. features which spoil the fluency of a speaker's speech

14. the missing out of whole grammatical units from an utterance - an informal was of speaking

Down

1. sound or word used to signal the speaker has paused to think

2. a form of verbal pointing

3. a type of language unique to a person

5. non specific language eg. thungumy, whatsit

6. a non-fluency feature when one person intrudes on what another is saying

8. something that can be examined to determine dominance of a conversation

10. the blurring or ommision of sounds of words e.g. 'cause