

Structural features

Across

8. The start of a text must interest the reader.
9. When words, phrases or ideas are repeated for effect.
10. This is what the writer focuses on as the text develops.

Down

1. The conclusion of a text may be neat or leave us with questions.
2. Bullets can summarise and simplify a range of ideas.
3. Changes in ideas and perspectives, eg outside to inside.
4. Types of sentence
5. Conversations and speech.
6. The feeling of speed in the writing - are events and ideas revealed to the reader slowly or quickly?
7. The differences between two things.