

Style Vocabulary

Across

5. the process in which an author expresses thoughts of attitude in writing.

7. the use of phrases to emphasize or enhance imagery of writing

11. A type of irony when something happens, but the opposite was expected

12. style of writing depending on the choice or use of words and phrases.

13. the arrangement of words or phrases

14. an emotion evoked by the writer leading up to the climax

Down

1. the way the author arranges the plot of the book (chronological order, different points of view, etc.)

2. A type of Irony When the audience knows more that the character in the moment.

3. the secondary meaning or association suggested or implied by a word or phrase.

4. A type of irony that is saying something but meaning the opposite.

6. the literal or direct meaning of a word or phrase.

8. using figurative language to form a mental picture.

9. a category dependent on the subject matter of the story.

10. the speed at which the story is being told.

Word Bank

STRUCTURE

SUSPENSE

DICTION

CONNOTATION

TONE

DRAMATIC

SITUATIONAL

FIGURATIVE LANGUAGE

PACE

GENRE

DENOTATION

IMAGERY

VERBAL

SYNTAX