

Syntactical devices

Across

3. A sentence containing at least two independent clauses
4. Successive clauses or sentences are similarly structured. This similarity makes it easier for the reader / listener to concentrate on the message
8. Anadiplosis A technique in which the word at the end is the same as the start for the next sentence.
9. Repetition of a phrase in reversed order
10. Is the repetition of the same word or group of words at the end of lines, clauses, or sentences

Down

1. A sentence containing a subordinate clause or clauses.
2. Repetition of the last word/phrase at the beginning of the next sentence/clause
5. The normal progression of a sentence is interrupted by extra information or explanations
6. Is the repetition of the same word or group of words at the beginning of lines, clauses, or sentences
7. Reversal of grammatical structure (in the repeated clause)