

Taxonomy

Across

2. Used as a method of prevention in animals
 6. An example of Phylum Aschelminthes
 7. A certain type of plant nematode feeds on it
 12. An indicator that lungworm is present in an animal
 15. The encysted form of cercia
 18. Phylum with a protective cuticle
 19. _____ egg counts are used to monitor infestation of an animal

20. Symptom of liver fluke

21. Area of swelling when infected with liver fluke

Down

1. Elongated, non-segmented, pointed ends
 3. The first larval stage of liver fluke reproduces to form _____?
 4. A fully developed parasitic flatworm
 5. Stage between egg and adult of an insect
 8. First larval stage of liver fluke

9. Another term for lungworm infection

10. Sign of an infected potato plant

11. Taxonomy is the classification of what?

13. Bluish coloration of the skin

14. Type of temperature to help parasitic eggs to hatch

16. A plant nematode

17. Final larval stage of liver fluke