Tech Terms

Across

6. A means of connecting remote systems as if they were on a local network.

8. A way to translate requests that are incoming into a routing server to the relevant devices or servers

9. The envelope that carries your data (in pieces) from one end point to the other.

10. A set of rules and standards that basically define a language that devices can use to communicate.

Down

1. Any kind of software interface to networking hardware.

2. large, dispersed networks

3. A home or office network is an example of a _____ _____ _____.

4. A _____ refers to pieces of related information that are transferred through a network.

5. A program that decides whether traffic coming into a server or going out should be allowed.

7. An address on a single machine that can be tied to a specific piece of software.