

Name: _____ Date: _____

Technology Terms

- |  |                           |
|--|---------------------------|
| 1. a computer on a network that manages network resources  | A. network                |
| 2. a software program that lets you complete a task on your computer   | B. search engine          |
| 3. to transfer documents from one computer to an online source   | C. motherboard            |
| 4. a piece of hardware or software that adds a specific feature to a larger already existing system                      | D. download               |
| 5. info stored and organized so that a computer can quickly retrieve selected pieces of information                      | E. bitmap                 |
| 6. a system that prevents unauthorized access to and from a private network  | F. application            |
| 7. the amount of info one can send through a connection at a given time  | G. server                 |
| 8. a type of computer that has enough power to run applications used in work environments                                | H. cache                  |
| 9. the broad subject of anything concerning processing or managing info  | I. ethernet               |
| 10. a word that specifies a certain record or file in programming a specific command                                     | J. information technology |
| 11. the representation in rows and columns of dots of an image in computer memory  | K. workstation            |
| 12. the process of copying a document or file from an online source to your own computer                                 | L. keyword                |
| 13. the main circuit board of a computer   | M. plug in                |
| 14. the high-speed storage mechanism that allows a computer to store frequently accessed info locally                    | N. upload                 |
| 15. a program that searches documents, websites, band databases for keywords and then provides a list of those documents | O. cursor                 |
| 16. the translation of info into a secret code   | P. firewall               |
| 17. a group of two or more computers linked together   | Q. database               |
| 18. a message given to a web browser, by a web server that is stored in the browser and sent back to the server          | R. bandwidth              |

19. a symbol, usually a blinking line, that shows where the net letter will be typed on the computer screen      S. encryption
20. a common method of enabling computers in the same local area network to communicate with each other      T. cookie