

The American System

Across

5. During the last year of _____'s presidency, two parts of Clay's system were already in place.

9. According to Henry Clay, high tariffs would encourage Americans to buy _____ goods rather than foreign goods.

10. The Constitution did not explicitly allow for spending of _____ money on roads and canals.

11. This plan was proposed for advancement of the nation's _____ growth.

12. What department failed to approve adequate funding for the projects planned in the American System?

Down

1. _____ would promote growth in the West and the South.

2. Who was left to make internal improvements on their own?

3. A _____ would keep a smooth running system by providing a national currency.

4. What was argued that protective tariffs would do besides promote American manufacturing?

6. Protective tariffs, a national bank, and internal improvement were the 3 main parts of what?

7. Who consistently vetoed acts of Congress providing funds for road-building and canal-building?

8. Who proposed the American System?