

The End of War

Across

4. This was the bloodiest battle of the Revolutionary War.
 5. The U.S. demanded this to be granted before any other negotiations with the British.
 7. This treaty granted U.S their independence and established the nations boundaries.
 9. The colonists motivation to drive out the British.
 10. This side of the war had a strong and trained army.

13. The Continental army wanted this group to support them.

14. This army helped the continental army surround the British for their surrender.

15. The U.S had an advantage because of this.

Down

1. General Cornwallis surrendered at this battle, ending the Revolutionary War.

2. This leader was able to keep the continental army together.

3. His leadership caused British to loose support for the war.

6. The British wanted them to side with them to fight against the U.S.

8. This side of the war had the best leadership.

11. This caused delays in delivery and communication for British soldiers.

12. Colonists were able to do this easily since they were fighting on their own land.