

The Endocrine System

Across

- 6. The chemical responsible for your "Fight or flight" instinct.
- 7. Absorbs iodine from the blood, and controls the glands that release hormones during puberty.
- 8. The glands that produce testosterone to control changes in the male body during puberty.
- 10. Regulates calcium levels in the blood.

Down

- 1. Produces estrogen that controls changes in the female body during puberty.
- 2. A state in which the body is stable and calm inside and outside.
- 3. A state in which the body is stable and calm inside and outside.
- 4. The gland that releases hormones that control other glands to regulate growth.
- 5. a gland that regulates blood sugar by secreting insulin and glucagon.
- 9. Allows the body to produce white blood cells.