

Traction Terms

Across

- 2. _____ is the separation of surfaces by extension without injury or dislocation of a joint.
- 4. A patient can use their own weight to provide _____ traction.
- 6. When performing mechanical cervical traction the head should be in 25 deg of cervical _____.
- 9. _____ traction is completed by the therapist.

10. An advantage of

- _____ is that the patient controls the parameters.
- 11. _____ is traction that is completed by a machine.
- 12. _____ determines the traction force on the target tissue.
- 13. _____ is the protrusion of the intervertebral disc from its normal anatomic position.
- 14. _____ is a resistive force that opposes movement.

Down

- 1. Is osteoporosis is a contraindication/precaution to traction?
- 3. _____ is the process of pulling apart or pulling.
- 5. Is pregnancy is a precaution/contraindication to traction?
- 7. Care should be taken to use the _____ amount of force that is clinically necessary during cervical traction.
- 8. A _____ can be described as a push or a pull.