

Tsunamis

Across

2. Relating to or near a coast.
 5. The outline of a coast, especially with regard to its shape and appearance.
 9. a sandy or gravelly part of the shore of a body of water
 10. something (as a flood or tornado) that happens suddenly and causes much suffering or loss
 11. Large and heavy or solid.

12. A very large expanse of sea, in particular, each of the main areas into which the sea is divided geographically.

13. the slipping down of a mass of rocks or earth on a steep slope

Down

1. Relating to or produced by a volcano or volcanoes.
 3. a great sea wave produced especially by an earthquake or volcanic eruption under the sea

4. Of or adjoining the Atlantic Ocean

6. a shaking or trembling of a portion of the earth

7. Existing in or caused by nature; not made or caused by humankind.

8. the land along the edge of a body of water (as the sea)