

UC2 Immunology Overview

Across

- 3. It has the characteristics of heat, redness and pain.
- 8. B cells are directly activated by pathogen's antigen, which stimulate them to produce antibodies.
- 9. The most common type of leukocyte

- 11. A fast response and nonspecific defense mechanism.
- 12. Any piece of matter that provokes an immune response.

Down

- 1. Bacteria that have a mutual relationship with their host.
- 2. Cell that produces and secretes intestinal mucus.

- 4. Lymphocyte
- 5. A lymphoid gland beneath the breastbone.
- 6. Cytokine
- 7. Surround and kill microorganisms.
- 10. With cell adhesion molecules, helps leukocytes migrate to the infection site.