

Name: _____

Date: _____

Period: _____

Unit 1: Interactions Within Ecosystems Crossword

Across

2. A type of relationship in which one organism benefits and the other is neither harmed nor helped.
4. A group of organisms of the same species living in an area at a particular time is called a _____.
6. All the non-living things in an ecosystem are called _____ parts of an ecosystem.
7. A relationship in which an organism hunts and kills another organism for food.
9. A chemical process that occurs in cells that releases carbon dioxide into the environment.
10. A type of consumer that eats both plants and animals.
12. Organisms that break down the dead remains or wastes of dead animals and plants, releasing them into the environment.

14. An area where living things interact with each other and with non-living things

18. A type of relationship in which both organisms benefit from one another
19. A complex link of many food chains is called a _____.
20. A flowchart using arrows to show how living things are connected to each other by the food they eat.
21. The chemical process carried out in the stems and leaves of green plants is called _____.

22. Type of consumer that only eats other consumers (meat)

Down

1. All the living things that make up an ecosystem are called _____ parts of an ecosystem.

3. Organisms that do not make their own food, but get their energy from eating plants or other animals

5. A relationship in which one organism feeds off another causing harm to the other organism
8. Competition among members of the same species or organisms
11. Competition between members of different species
13. Type of consumer that only eats plants
15. A group of different organisms living in an area is called a _____.

16. A type of consumer that feeds off the dead remains that other consumers have killed for food.

17. Organisms that make their own food